What This Course Is About

This course considers technological change from historical, artistic, and philosophical perspectives and its effect on human needs and concerns. Emphasis is placed on the causes and consequences of technological change. Upon completion, students should be able to critically evaluate the implications of technology.

Requisites

Complete one: Complete ENG-002 with a grade of P1 or higher; Place out of ENG-002; Complete ENG-025; Place out of ENG-025 - Must be completed prior to taking this course.

What You'll Learn: Student Learning Outcomes

By semester's end, students will be expected to be able to demonstrate the ability to:

SLO 1

Identify major technological innovations and inventors throughout history.

SLO 2

Understand and appreciate the ways in which technology has influenced the direction and development of societies from ancient times to the present.

SLO 3

Analyze the cultural and philosophical characteristics of these developments.

SLO 4

Correlate the relationships of historical technological changes in societies from ancient times to the present.

SLO 5

Explain and exemplify these correlations, in well-written, well-organized essays and oral presentations.

SLO 6

Detect correspondence between technology and its effects on his or her own 21st century life.

What You'll Need: Textbook & Materials

Eagle Advantage is Wake Tech's textbook program for students in degree programs, excluding Career & College Promise (CCP) and Cooperative Innovative High School (Early College) students. The program ensures all required printed and digital textbooks are bundled and ready for pickup or delivery on or before the first day of class - saving you time and money and ensuring you're ready to learn on Day One.

If you are opted-in to Eagle Advantage, visit the 'Course Materials-BibliU' link in Blackboard for more information about the textbook details for your course. You can also find out more information by visiting FAQs and Troubleshooting – BibliU \(https://support.bibliu.com/hc/en-us/sections/360004011038--FAQs-and-Troubleshooting\).

If you opted-out of Eagle Advantage, you are responsible for purchasing any of the required texts/materials for this course. For more information about Eagle Advantage, contact our Bookstore \(https://www.waketechcampusstore.com/SelectTermDept\).

✓ How Your Work will be Evaluated: Grading Information

Criteria

Type	Weight	Topic	Notes
Quizzes	250 points	Syllabus, Introduction, and Chapter 1 - Chapter 13	Chapter quizzes will assess the student's basic understanding of the chapter's assigned readings and materials. Quizzes are open book/notes and will be administered online through Blackboard. No proctoring software is needed. Each quiz is untimed, and one attempt is allowed. Quizzes will open after the module is completed and students will generally have one week to complete the quiz. Quiz answers are provided after the quiz due date for students by clicking on your score in the Gradebook. Quizzes cannot be reset or completed past the due date as the correct answers will have been released. Also, make-up assignments and/or other quiz versions will not be provided, so please check Blackboard for specific due dates and plan accordingly to ensure your quizzes are submitted before the due dates.

Type	Weight	Topic	Notes
Chapter Assignments and In Class Activities	250 points	Chapters 1, 3, 5, and 7-13	Students will contribute to in class discussions, activities, and assignments. Each assignment will be located within the course modules. Further details will also be provided on the assignments in the module folders in which they will appear. In order to receive credit for assignments given and completed in class, students must be in attendance that day. If you have an emergency or exceptional circumstances, please let me know as early as possible. Exceptions will be made at the instructor's discretion. *Please note that assignments will be graded within two weeks of the due date. Grades will be posted in the Grade Center in Blackboard. Also, expect to hear from the instructor regarding assignments via the My Grades feedback section. Every student will receive some form of feedback for every written assignment.
Final Research Project	200 points		A research project will be completed during the course. Students will select and watch a technology-related film and create a website analyzing the accuracy and social implications of the featured technology and connect the material back to our course. A module entitled Final Website Project Guidelines and Assistance contains a list of films, sample projects from previous courses, film review sources to gather information, as well as a rubric. Additionally, more information will be provided in the course to assist students.
Midterm Exam	150 points	Introduction - Chapter 6	The Midterm Exam will be given in person on campus. Exam dates will be announced in class as well as within Blackboard. Please make sure to mark the dates on your personal calendar and to check the course daily for possible changes. The exam format may be multiple choice, true/false, matching, short answer and/or essay.
Final Exam	150 points	Chapter 7 - Chapter 13	The Final Exam will be given in person on campus. Exam dates will be announced in class as well as within Blackboard. Please make sure to mark the dates on your personal calendar and to check the course daily for possible changes. The exam format may be multiple choice, true/false, matching, short answer and/or essay.

* How I Will Help You Succeed: Instructor Policies & Procedures

Attendance

Wake Tech expects students to attend at least 90% of all scheduled class meetings. If a student's consecutive absences from class exceed 10% of the total instructional time, the student has not communicated with the instructor and the student is currently not passing the class, then the faculty member should withdraw the student from the class.

Late Assignments

Late assignments will only be accepted in the case of documented emergencies or exceptional circumstances. Please let me know as early as possible and before the due date what has caused you to not be able to submit on time. Exceptions will be made at the instructor's discretion.

Quizzes

Quizzes are not reset or accepted late. This is intended to ensure testing integrity. Each quiz is worth a relatively low amount of points overall (between 2-2.5%) and is intended as a check in to ensure you are understanding the material. Please plan accordingly.

Exams

Exams will be given in class during scheduled times, and a Scantron may be needed. More information will be provided in class.

AI Acceptable Usage

The use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) to develop research ideas, gather information, assist in citation formatting, as well as assist in editing (spelling, grammar, punctuation) is permitted in this course. However, it is your responsibility to check that the information, sources, and citations are accurate. The use of AI to write entire essays or papers is NOT permitted in this course. If you use AI to write assignments, you may receive a zero on that assignment. My goal is that we learn and embrace evolving technology, while also considering the ethical consequences. If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know.

Extra Credit

If extra credit is offered, information will be communicated to the entire class through Blackboard announcements and email. To ensure fairness to all students, individual or additional extra credit requests will not be granted. All students will have equal access to the same opportunities, and no exceptions will be made. Students are therefore expected to focus on meeting the established course requirements rather than seeking alternative or supplemental credit options.

Grade Rounding

To maintain consistency and transparency, this course will apply a limited rounding practice at the upper end of each grade range. Any final grade ending in *95.0 points to *99.9 points will be rounded up to the next letter grade (e.g., 795.0 points will be recorded as a B, and 899.9 points will be recorded as an A).

Grades that do not fall within this specific range will not be adjusted. This policy is applied to all students to ensure fairness and uphold academic standards. Students should not expect or request additional rounding beyond what is outlined.

Tips for Success

In order to succeed, this course is going to require consistent engagement and communication. If you ever need assistance, please contact me as soon as possible. Also, please be sure to attend class regularly, arrive on time, and pay attention to announcements (in person and through Blackboard). I regularly remind students of due dates and information on upcoming assignments. I am looking forward to working with you all this semester.

- Set a work schedule for each new module. Consider setting a reminder of the week's due dates.
- Blackboard offers a "calendar" function with due dates for your class. Keep in mind that the assignments listed in the calendar may not be a comprehensive list. Rather than relying on the calendar dates, please refer to our syllabus and Blackboard assignment due dates.
- Read the directions for each assignment carefully.
- Review each rubric before submitting your work.
- Write all responses and assignments in MLA format.

How the Division Will Help You Succeed: Division Policies & Procedures

In the Liberal Arts Division, we're committed to helping students learn, grow, and reach their goals. Through their studies, Liberal Arts students build the critical thinking and communication skills that prepare them to succeed in their chosen paths. Additional Items

Have Questions About Your Work?

Humanities Department courses include some common course assignment and assessment requirements:

- Students will write and be graded on at least one writing assignment, which will contain a critical thinking component as determined and scheduled by the individual instructor.
- Faculty will announce to students the method(s) by which students will submit their written work. Some faculty may require students to submit their written work in Blackboard using the SafeAssign link.
- For written work, faculty will give guidance on citation requirements and style.
- Students should allow instructors 2 weeks to grade submitted work.

Students sometimes have questions regarding evaluation of their work. Instructors hold regular office hours to assist students with questions about the course or evaluation of submitted work.

Students should always work first with course instructors to find answers to questions or resolve issues with evaluation prior to contacting the Department Head or Associate Department Head.

For student concerns, Liberal Arts Division instructors follow the guidelines in the Wake Tech College Catalog. The first step for resolving the situation is generally for the student to communicate concerns or complaints with the instructor, outside of class time. As a follow-up step, the student may contact the Department Head.
